

HALLOWEEN FOLKLORE : GHOSTS

DID YOU CONNECT THE DOTS CORRECTLY?

Since ancient times, ghost stories—tales of spirits who return from the dead to haunt the places they left behind—have been a part in the folklore of many cultures around the world.

In Oxford County, local folklore states that the ghost of Thomas Cook who was a prisoner at the jail in 1862, haunts the jail and court house. There are many other ghost stories and spooky tales in the County including stories of ghosts roaming the countryside roads in Zorra and witches putting curses on farmers' cattle.
